Descrizione

It is set in the enchanting Gulf of Squillace between Catanzaro Lido and the lively town of Soverato.

At the foot of the old Squillace, of the Castellense of Cassiodorus (VIII century) and the Castle of Borgia, the Tenuta Castellesi is set close to the coast and surrounded of 4000 olive trees and 3000 citrus plantations, in a charming scenery which comes sweetly down to the Ionian sea.

Refined country houses, elegantly and comfortably furnished, are sunk among olive trees and various rural buildings. Those houses were restored following the old Calabrian stylistic elements.

bike rides, archery, olive harvesting and olive grinding in the mill set inside the "Tenuta", citrus harvesting will lead you to the rediscovery of old flavours.

Moreover, one can enjoy the clear sea, the white beaches and the cliffs of Copanello, Caminia and Pietragrande, places which offer every kind of services and entertainments only 3 km far from the "Tenuta".

The places of Cassiodorus, the old village of Squillace hostin the Castle of Borgia, the Graeco-Roman theatre and the archaeological excavations of the old Skilleton (5 km far from Roccelletta di Borgia) are worth to be visited by all those who love art, history and culture.
